CRAZY's Interview With Dracula drove me batty!

James Frazer
Lake Stevens, Wash.

Dear James,

Like the man said, "there's a sucker born every minute!"

* * *

Every time I get your stupid magazine I get sick!

Christine Powell
Ellisville, Ill.

Dear Christine,

Oh? Are the two magazines stuck together?

Keep up the good work, and hold your head high! Us CRAZY fans are all gonna stick together!

Jamie Boone
Orland, Ca.

Dear Jamie,

Sounds like you're all stuck up!

In CRAZY #53, I loved your homework charge card. I think everyone from first grade up to twelfth grade should have one.

Lisa Altheide
Adamsburg, Pa.

Dear Lisa,
Only one?

How about doing a parody about kids who write to you?

Shari Dalziel
Grand Blanc, Mich.

Dear Shari,

We've already done a parody of Animal House!

Your First Aid Techniques in CRAZY #53 was the first thing I read, and it didn't aid me at all. I killed three people by practicing those techniques!

Russell Lindenburg
San Antonio, Tx.

Dear Russell,

If you think CRAZY's first aid is fatal, you should try Jim Jones' kool-aid!

In CRAZY #53, A Crazy Look At A Hospital kept me in stitches.

Kevin McGough
Adamsville, Ala.

Dear Kevin,

You sound like a real cutup!

I hope you do a parody on "B.J. And The Bear".

Sean Dennis
Santa Barbara, Ca.

Dear Sean,

B.J., maybe, but the Bear is a little too grizzly for us!

I really like your magazine, but when I bought issue #54, my dog chewed it up and I didn't get a chance to read it.

Debbie Bengston
Junction City, Tx.

Dear Debbie,

We always said CRAZY was going to the dogs!

If you don't do a parody of the movie "Elvis" in your next issue, I'm going to come down there and beat up your proofreader!

Derek Tadloch
Coalinga, Ca.

Dear Derek,

Promises! Promises!

* * *

I recently bought CRAZY #54, and I thought it was so dumb I'm never going to buy it again!

Kathy Johnson
Pontiac, Mich.

Dear Kathy,

Naturally! Who wants to buy the same issue twice?

* * *

I nearly threw up when I saw that picture on page 31 of issue #54—where someone was standing up during an operation!

Stephanie Siegel
Broken Arrow, Okl.

Dear Stephanie,

What do you want? The patient was having a body lift!

* * *

Why don't you put CRAZY on television?

Steven Kessler
Dunkirk, N.Y.

Dear Steven,

Television is crazy enough!

CRAZY #54 was just great! I loved the part about Teacher Magazine.

Laura Price
Omaha, Neb.

Dear Laura,

Go to head of the class!

* * *

Thanks for the Crazy Credit Cards in issue #54. I almost got free gas with them!

Trent Ricker
Estes Park, Col.

Dear Trent,
That's not surprising! CRAZY gives gas to a lot of people!

I just read Doltish House (issue #53), and I was wondering why you put Rounder on a diet?

Angela Canty
Newton, Mass.

Dear Angela,
We were having trouble fitting him on the page!

* * *

I love CRAZY and so does my sister. We hate those who hate CRAZY... and we just ignore people like that!

Gary Holmes
Holly Hill, Fla.

Dear Gary,
14,000,000 people are hard to ignore!

I liked issue #54 because the dog show was funny, and I liked Fantastic Island. If anyone says CRAZY stinks... they stink!

Alyson Bloom
Stoughton, Mass.

Dear Alyson,
Do we smell a compliment there?

* * *

You guys goofed! In issue #53, the last panel of Doltish House, Steve Martin says "Excuse Me!". However, you need 13 "u's", and you only had twelve!

Danny Fox
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dear Danny,
Well, Excuuuuuuuuuuuuuse us!

Will you do a parody of Star Trek?
Patrick Stubbs
Spring Valley, Oh.

Dear Patrick,
Want fast action? Turn the page...

* * *

I read CRAZY and I really enjoy it. If someone tells you CRAZY stinks, tell them to go suck an egg!

Steven Gimplowite
Phoenix, Az.

Dear Steven,
If we did that, there would be a tremendous egg shortage in America!

* * *

I think your magazine is stupid, idiotic, weird, and dumb, but I love it! Keep this great all-American magazine coming out!

Scott Donnelly
Ft. Washington, Md.

Dear Scott,
It's coming out, all right... coming out our ears!

EVER GET THE
FEELING THE WORLD
IS A TUXEDO... AND YOU'RE A PAIR OF
BROWN SHOES?

Why do you keep copying other humor magazines? Can't you think of something original?

Frank Peeler
Puryear, Tenn.

Dear Frank,
You're saying what everyone else is saying! Can't you think of something original?

* * *

Some of the things in your magazine are funny, but most things in your magazine are not very nice!

Cindy McLain
Bristol, Tenn.

Dear Cindy,
Like maybe your letter?

* * *

In issue #53, Howard the Duck was a real quack! I also loved Sights To Make Your Eyes Sore. And if you don't print my letter in CRAZY, I'll rip your lungs out!

Mildred Byrne
Hickory Hills, Ill.

Dear Mildred,
Sounds like a matter of life and breath!

MOVIE SATIRE

Here's our version of a movie that simply had to be made. Mainly because millions of fans requested it. Which is the same number of people who will now request that CRAZY has to go—after they read this nutty bit of...

CAPTAIN'S LOG—STARDATE 12/8/ . . .

THE U.S.S. ENTERPRISE WAS RETURNING TO BASE WHEN IT CAME UPON A STRANGE CLOUD-LIKE ENTITY THAT IT HAD NEVER EXPERIENCED BEFORE . . .

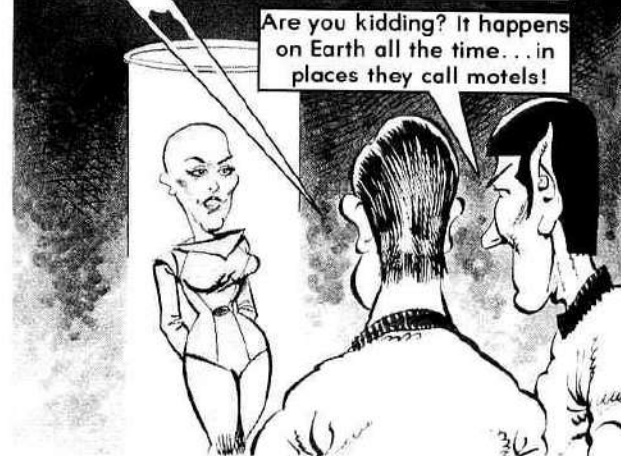

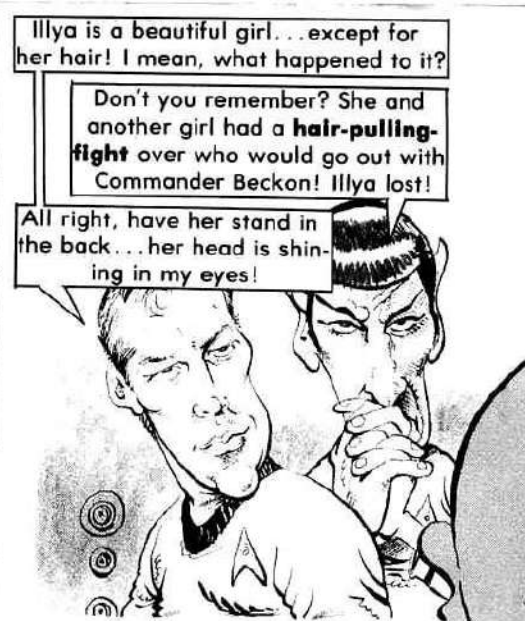

Lieutenant Illya reporting for duty, Sir!

You know... it never ceases to amaze me—the way you can be sitting around one minute, and the next minute a beautiful girl appears out of nowhere and walks into your room! Only in a spaceship could that happen!

Are you kidding? It happens on Earth all the time... in places they call motels!

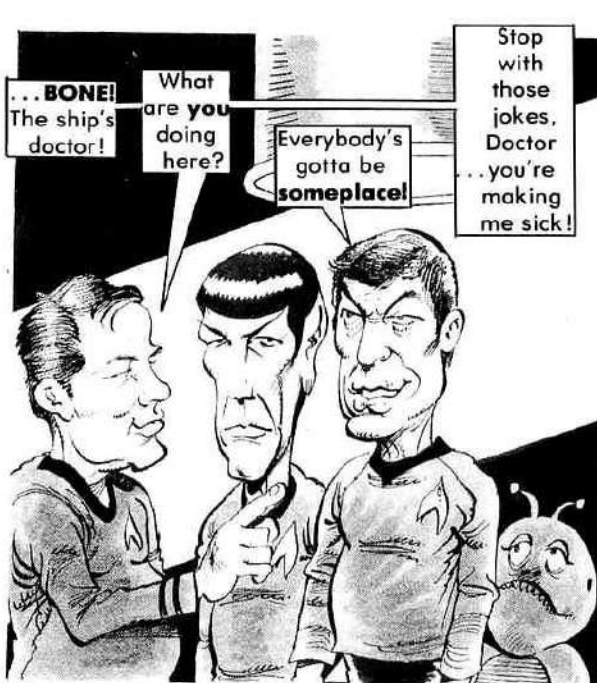

Illya is a beautiful girl... except for her hair! I mean, what happened to it?

Don't you remember? She and another girl had a hair-pulling-fight over who would go out with Commander Beckon! Illya lost!

All right, have her stand in the back... her head is shining in my eyes!

Look! Somebody else is now materializing! It's... it's...

... BONE! The ship's doctor!

What are you doing here?

Everybody's gotta be someplace!

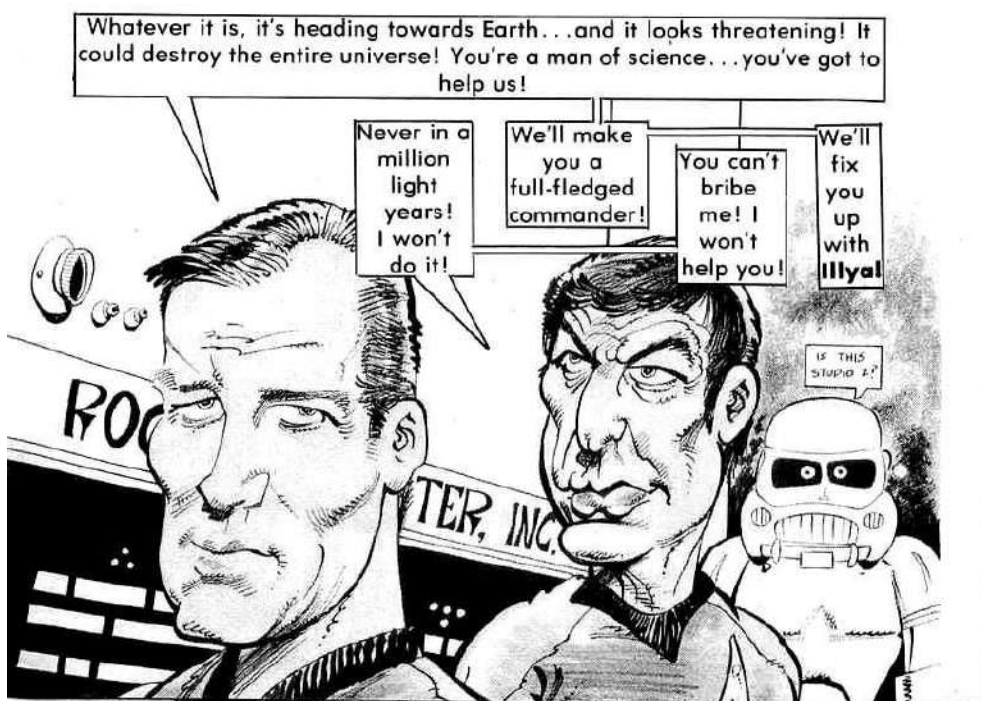

Stop with those jokes. Doctor... you're making me sick!

It's good you're here, Bone... we need you! There's some kind of weird thing out there!

Why do you call everything you can't identify a... thing?

I don't! Some times I call it a thingamajig... sometimes a gizmo... sometimes a doo-hickey!

Whatever it is, it's heading towards Earth... and it looks threatening! It could destroy the entire universe! You're a man of science... you've got to help us!

Never in a million light years! I won't do it!

We'll make you a full-fledged commander!

You can't bribe me! I won't help you!

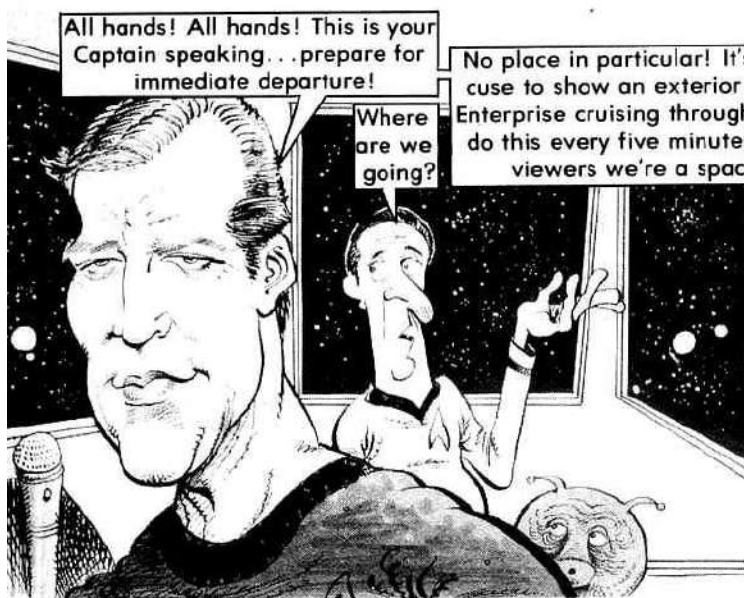

We'll fix you up with Illya!

MAY DAY! MAY DAY!

No, I just looked at the calendar! April is finally over! It's May Day! May Day!

You mean we're in trouble again?

All hands! All hands! This is your Captain speaking... prepare for immediate departure!

Where are we going?

No place in particular! It's just an excuse to show an exterior shot of the Enterprise cruising through space! We do this every five minutes to remind viewers we're a space show!

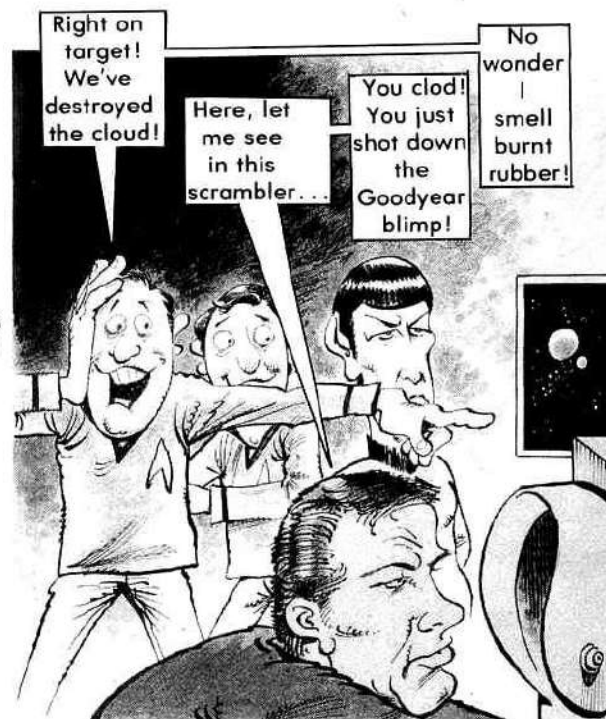

Besides... it's free footage left over from Lost In Space!

I knew it looked familiar!

Code 6!
Code 6!
We're being attacked again!

Okay, men, this is it... Fire Number 2 missile when ready!

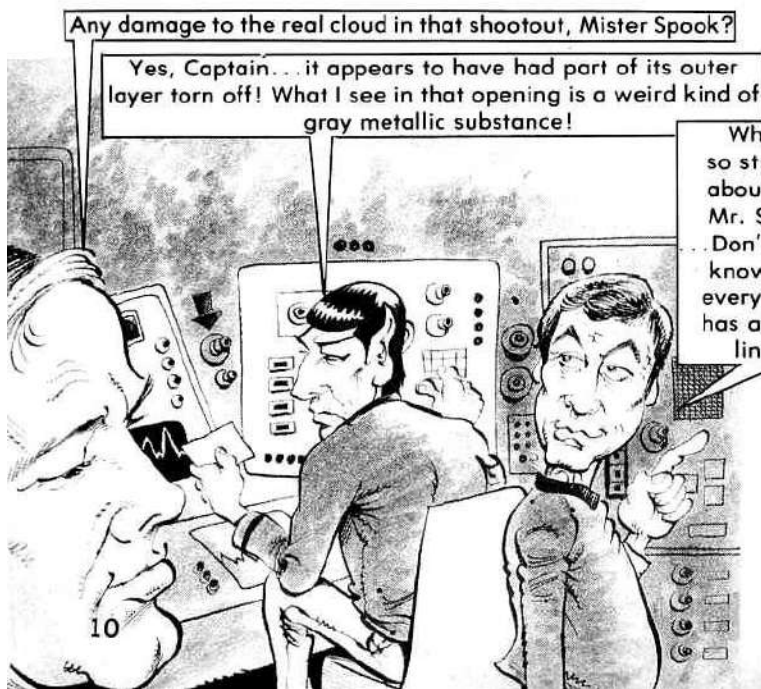

Right on target! We've destroyed the cloud!

Here, let me see in this scrambler...

You clod! You just shot down the Goodyear blimp!

No wonder I smell burnt rubber!

Any damage to the real cloud in that shootout, Mister Spook?

Yes, Captain... it appears to have had part of its outer layer torn off! What I see in that opening is a weird kind of gray metallic substance!

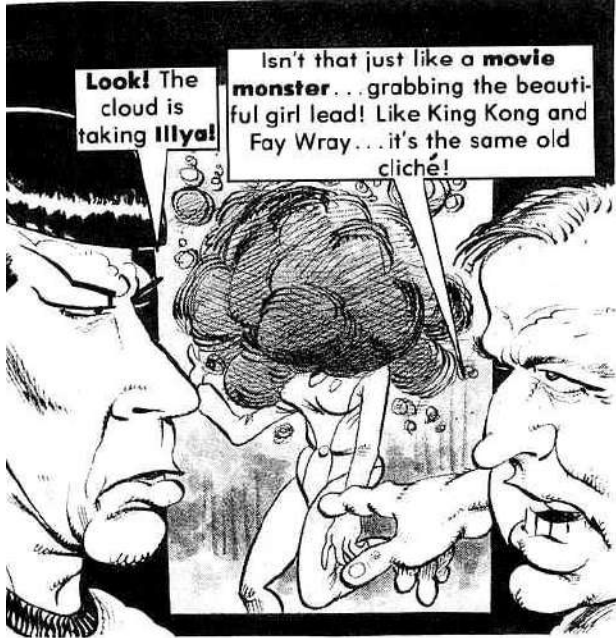

What's so strange about that, Mr. Spook... Don't you know that every cloud has a silver lining!

This is no time for jokes, Bone... that mysterious cloud is now less than two days from Earth! We've got to intercept it and find out its mission, or else...

Or else what?

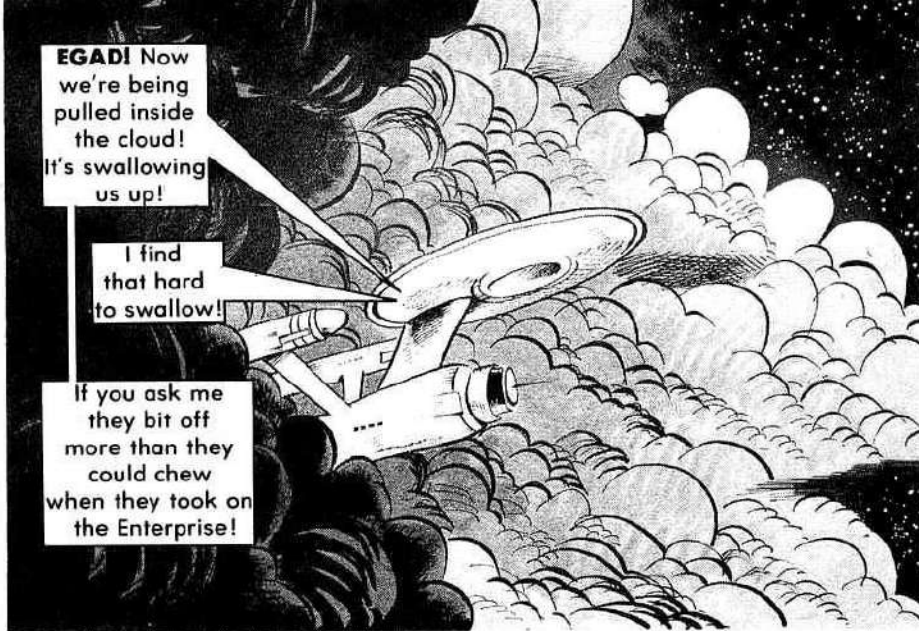

Or else we'll have no plot for this movie!

Look! The cloud is taking Illyal!

Isn't that just like a movie monster... grabbing the beautiful girl lead! Like King Kong and Fay Wray... it's the same old cliché!

EGAD! Now we're being pulled inside the cloud! It's swallowing us up!

I find that hard to swallow!

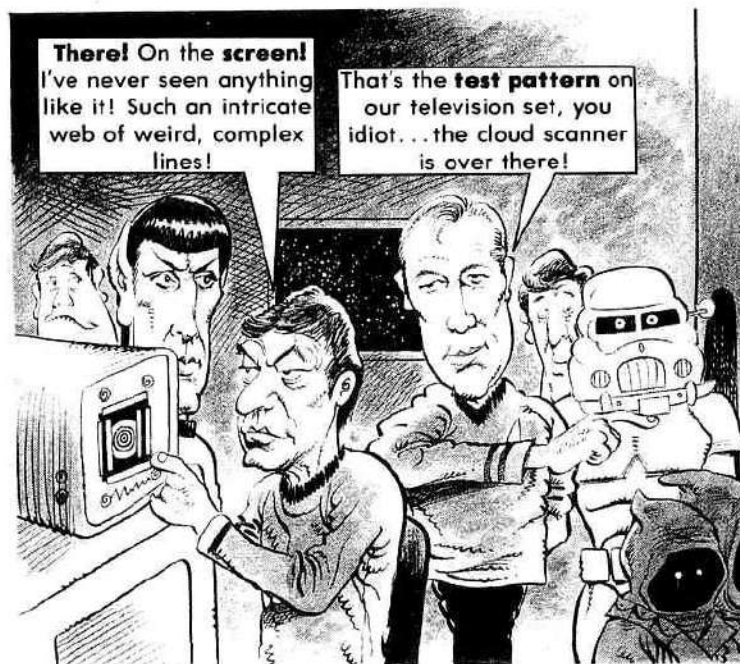

If you ask me they bit off more than they could chew when they took on the Enterprise!

Now it's attempting to communicate with us! However, since their frequency is greater than our speed of sound, their entire message lasted only a millionth of a second!

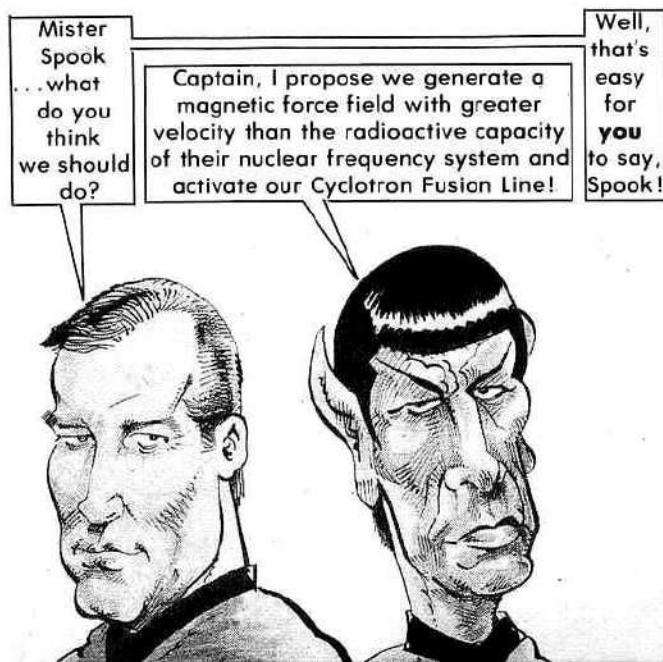

What did they say?

"NUTS!"

There! On the screen! I've never seen anything like it! Such an intricate web of weird, complex lines!

That's the test pattern on our television set, you idiot... the cloud scanner is over there!

Mister Spook... what do you think we should do?

Captain, I propose we generate a magnetic force field with greater velocity than the radioactive capacity of their nuclear frequency system and activate our Cyclotron Fusion Line!

Well, that's easy for you to say, Spook!

I'm Captain of this ship and, as long as I'm Captain, we'll do things my way!

Find out what Mister Spook meant by all that dribble he just said... then go do it!

What way is that, Captain?

A CRAZY LOOK AT DIFFER

Writer: Michael Pellowski

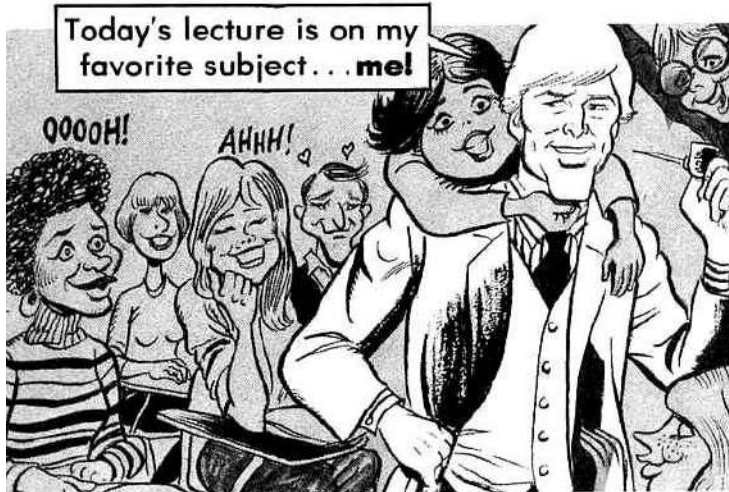

MR. DIRTY-LOOKER

He tries to discourage rowdy students by giving them dirty looks. Unfortunately, these tactics never work, as the kids keep ignoring him.

MISS POINTER

She's a female dirty-looker who always points her finger at rowdy students as if it were a gun. She often wishes it was one, considering the flack she gets from the kids.

MR. HANDSOME

All the girls in school are in love with Mr. Handsome. Only Mr. Handsome isn't in love with any of them. This is because Mr. Handsome is in love with himself.

MS. SPINSTER

This mean old teacher is married to her job, mainly because no human being has ever asked for her hand. Or for any other part of her body, for that matter.

MISS FLIRTER

This young teacher spends all day flirting with Mr. Handsome because she doesn't want to end up like Ms. Spinster. She usually winds up with Mr. Buddy.

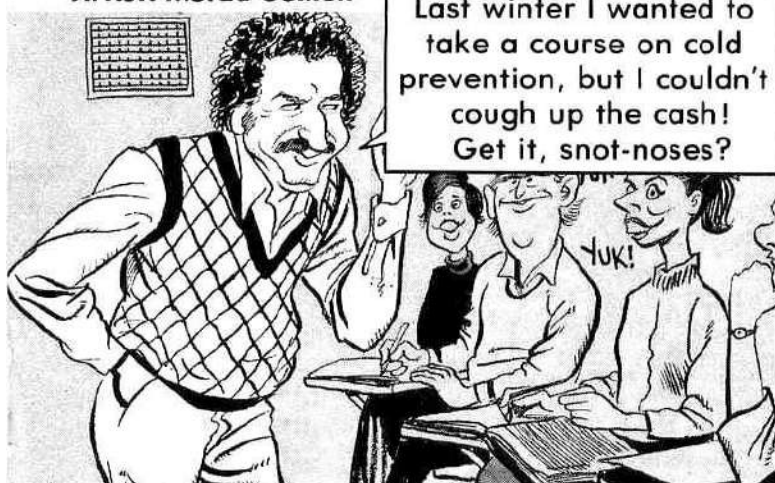

MR. BUDDY

He's a first-year teacher who dresses, looks and acts just like a typical high school student. Only he has the mentality of a typical elementary school student.

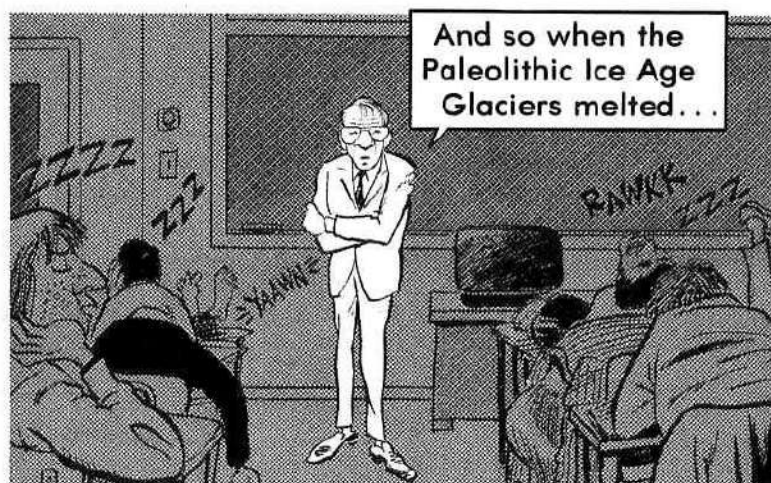

ENT TYPES OF TEACHERS

Artist: Murad Gumen

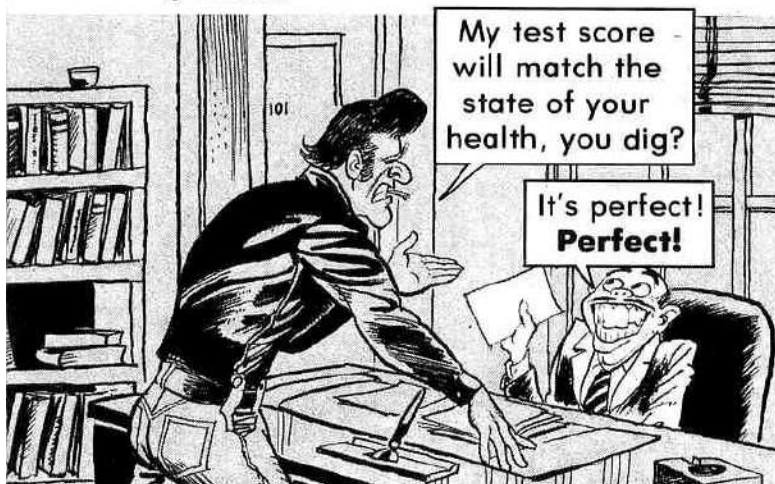

MR. JOKER

This teacher keeps control of his class by cracking jokes all the time. The only subject he knows anything about is humor. He never lasts long at any school.

MR. SANDMAN

This teacher lectures for hours in a dreary monotone, always on boring topics — putting his students to sleep. He's so dull, he himself falls asleep while talking.

MR. CHICKEN

This teacher is terrified of students in leather jackets. Pupils get good grades by selling him protection. Even a hostile glance will get an "A"!

MISS VA-VA-VAVOOM

She's a physical education teacher who gets an A+ in body-building. Her bust measurement is higher than her I.Q., which really sags all the way to the bottom.

MS. LIBBER

This teacher always comes to school bra-less. The only thing she hates more than men is Miss Va-Va-Vavoom. She would like to see women attendants in the men's rooms.

MR. ROMEO

He's always willing to tutor female students at his private pad, on the subject of sex education. They usually pass his course without a stitch of work.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Writer: Joe Kiernan

Artist: Tony Tallarico

WASHINGTON, D.C. . . Jimmy Carter received some bad news this month. After a visit to his dentist, the President reported that his teeth are fine — but that his gums will have to come out. This clears up the mystery lately, as to why he's been talking with an echo.

HOLLYWOOD, CAL. . . Work stopped today on the new multi-million dollar epic "Jaws 3 Meets Son of Star Wars In Grease 2". This is because the stars all called in sick after reading the script. Seems the only thing shot that day was the screenwriter.

PHOENIX, ARIZ. . . Mrs. Patricia Gluggs discovered oil in her backyard and gold in her frontyard in one day. Unfortunately, on the same day she discovered her husband Waldo kissing the maid and is now being held without bail on a manslaughter charge. Her comment: "Easy come, easy go!"

PARIS, FRANCE . . . French postcard salesman, Claude Chavell, ate 793 frog-legs in 8 minutes. When asked later how he felt, Mr. Chavell replied, "RIBIT! RIBIT!" and hopped merrily away.

BOMBAY, INDIA . . . Sabu Zeebo, a local fakir, was bitten all over his body by his pet snake. He is reportedly in good condition, but every-time he drinks a glass of water he leaks. He has also started to catch flies now, with his tongue.

WALLA WALLA, WASH. . . Stanislaus McNutt, a town gardener, devoured 400 bottles of iron tablets, got caught in a rainstorm shortly afterward and rusted to death.

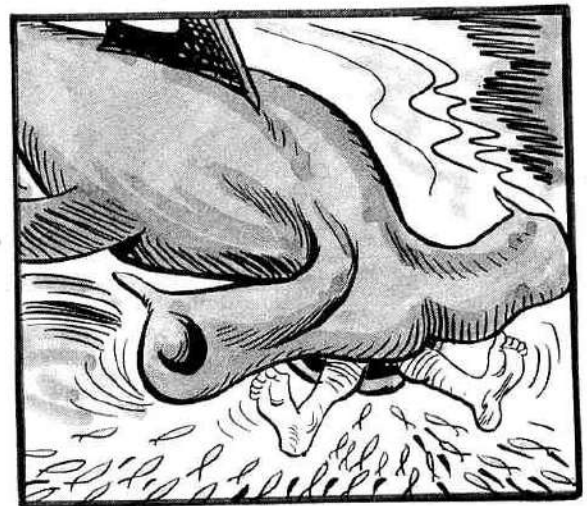

PROVIDENCE, R.I. . . While vacationing in New York City, Mr. Cecil Beemish was run over by a truck, hit by a low-flying airplane and gored by a wild bull. The ambulance to the hospital was then hijacked by a Cuban and flown to Havana. His last words were: "Thank God they didn't get my American Express Travelers' Checks"!

LEXINGTON, KY. . . Mrs. Hedda Ferndip, an invalid housewife, who hasn't been out of her home in 13 years, finally went out this month. She went walking with her husband and 17 kids down the Main Street of town and was given a summons for holding a parade without a permit.

NANTUCKET, MASS. . . Wendell Wooley, a fisherman from nearby Amityville, set a new record by eating 923 sardines for breakfast in less than one hour. A short time later, Bruce, a shark from nearby waters, ate Mr. Wooley for lunch — in less than one minute.

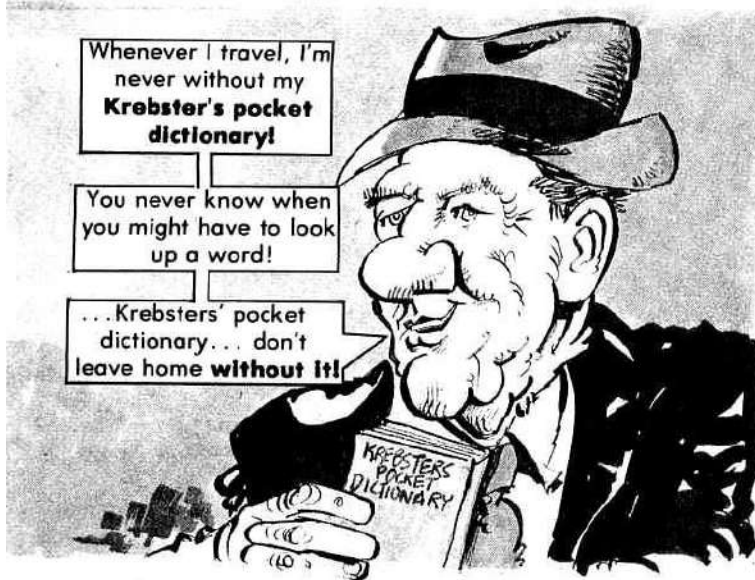

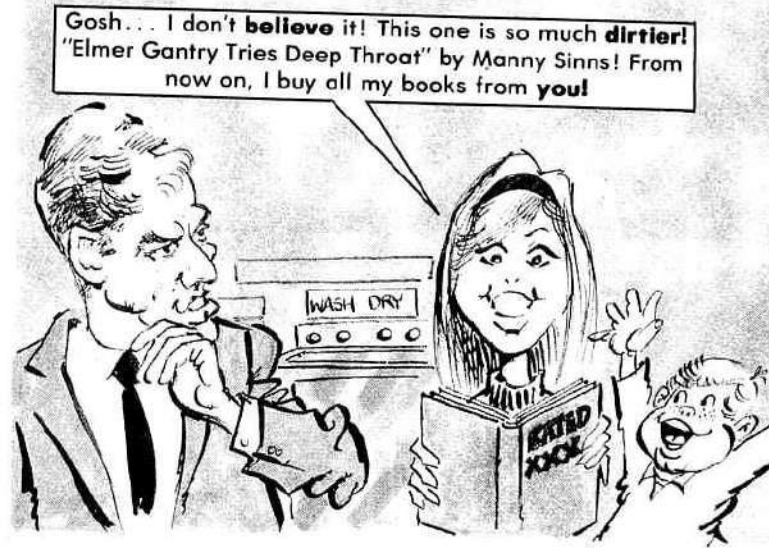

NUTLEY, N.J. . . Homer Grubnick, a local resident, took out his entire life savings and bought two million 1974 calendars. He claims he will make a fortune if that year ever comes back. Meanwhile, Mr. Grubnick is resting quietly in a home in Secaucus.

The latest thing to be sold on TV these days are books. Commercials keep springing up all over the place advertising the popular books of the day. Some of these commercials look and sound like ads for blockbuster movies. If this keeps up, some of the following are bound to be seen...

GAS PAINS

A ZANY LOOK AT THE ENERGY CRISIS

Writer: Eden Norah Artist: Aron Laikin

• In Albany, a motorist asked a station attendant for a dollar's worth of gas. The attendant let him sniff the pump!

• In Duluth a fellow tried the new substance "gasohol" but it didn't work. His headlights got bloodshot!

• How bad has the shortage become? A group of motorists recently raided the gas chamber at San Quentin!

• It seems that Israeli Airlines is the only one not affected by the fuel shortage. Their planes run on chicken soup.

• Detroit is coming out with a new car that runs on electricity. Trouble is, you can't go far unless you have a very long extension cord

• One motorist reported getting ten gallons of gas for his new Cadillac. Said it was the best trade he ever made.

• The Arabs really have us cornered. Even if we switch to solar energy, they get more sun than we do!

• The situation in California is really desperate. Thieves broke into a service station here, siphoned off all the fuel tanks and left the cash in the register.

• Want a great new source of natural gas? Tap Billy Carter's stomach!

• IRONY OF IRONIES: How come the Arabs have all the gas, while we have all the heartburn?

• The President has asked us to cut down on our use of power. We ask him to do likewise.

• If oil prices continue to rise, the Arabs will be riding in Cadillacs and we'll be riding on camels.

• Where are people going for their gas today? Hungarian restaurants report a landslide business!

• Oil companies are now planning to use lower grade automotive fuels. Instead of a tiger in our tanks we may all wind up with a pussycat!

• Abraham Lincoln foresaw it all when he said: "You can fuel some of the people all of the time..."

• One service station attendant hung mistletoe over the gas pump so the motorists can kiss it goodbye.

• The fuel shortage in New York City is really getting bad. A bank robber recently made his getaway on roller skates.

• THOUGHT FOR OUR TIME: How will we explain to our grandchildren that in the seventies we used six gallons of gas driving around to find a filling station to get five gallons.

• There's so little weekend traffic on the highways nowadays that hitchhikers are willing to go either way.

• It's gotten so that these days thieves are stealing gas tanks and leaving the cars.

• Want a great new source of oil? Drain all that grease off roadside diner hamburgers!

• In Los Angeles there's such a shortage of gas that the drivers have to push their cars over pedestrians!

• One poetic motorist put it this way: "today my cup runneth over, tomorrow I hope it'll be my gas tank!"

• One lady of the evening claimed she couldn't get gas for love not money. And she's tried both.

• THEME SONG OF THE GAS CRISIS: "Tanks For The Memory".

• Nowadays when somebody yells "Get a horse" you can't tell whether they're conserving gas or ordering dinner!

• A junkie motorist began celebrating recently when he heard they reduced the maximum on speed.

• One caddy gets 27 miles to a gallon. Not a car caddy, a golf caddy!

• Today when a fellow is out with a girl in his car and says he's out of gas — he's not kidding!

• A Chicago lush made the mistake of putting that new concoction "gasohol" in his car. Darn fool. Now they can't get his head out of the tank!

• The fuel shortage is really bad in Texas too. Stetson is limiting its hats to 8 gallons!

• SUDDEN THOUGHT: Because of NASA we can go to the Moon. But because of OPEC we can't go to the beach!

• A Denver salesman discovered a gas station that had unlimited quantities of fuel and no waiting line. He got so excited he ran out and bought a car!

• Newest alibi used by motorists stopped for speeding: "I was trying to get to a gas station before it ran out of gas!"

• One fellow had dinner recently at a roadside diner and happened to mention he had gas. On the way home three guys mugged him!

• If the United States is ever destroyed from within, notes one observer, it'll probably be from gas pains!

• Well, that's about it...oil's well that end's well!

What is it called when you go to court and take legal action against a runner?

A jogging suit!

Why do joggers like to vacation in Mexico?

They always get the runs there!

What do you call a jogging bachelor?

Footloose and fancy-free!

When do cows jog?

When they see Ronald McDonald coming towards them!

How do we know that
Jimmy Carter is a great jogger?

Because he always gives people the run around!

Why do so many people in New York City jog?

To get away from the muggers!

Which type of person is jogging especially recommended for?

Females who want to avoid motherhood!

Who invented jogging?

Burglars!

Which English rock star runs around the audience while he sings?

Mick Jogger!

What do you call midgets who get their exercise by running everyday?

Jogging shorts!

If a jogger enters a race against zombies, what is he up against?

Stiff competition!

Why do joggers hate practical jokers?

Because they don't like people pulling their legs!

Why do joggers frequently put their heads next to sink faucets?

They like to hear the sound of running water!

What is a jogger's favorite breed of dog?

A Labrador Retriever!

How can you spot a female jogger at a dinner party?

Runs in her stocking!

What do professional

Take The Money
And Run!

What will cowboys do when horses become extinct?

They'll put saddles on joggers!

Back in 1930, when Pluto was discovered, it was thought to be the "last" planet in our solar system. However, because of a recent sensational breakthrough in telescope technology, many new, previously-unknown planets have just been found. Come with us then, as we now take...

A CRAZY PEEK AT NEWLY-DISCOVERED PLANETS...

Writer: Warren Emery
Artist: Tony Tallarico

BAZEBALLUS

This planet has a giant canal which is sewed-up during winter (note the stitching along the banks) and reopened in spring. The Bazeballian people are fond of sports (such as hitting a ball with a stick), but get enraged at the sight of creatures they call "umpires" who wear black suits.

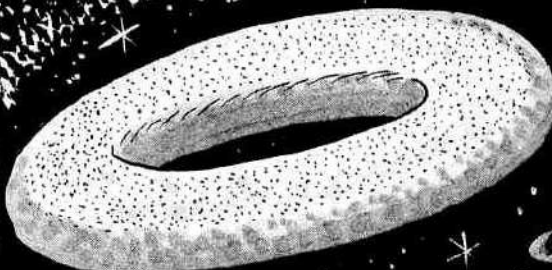

OVUM

Just as the cow is sacred in India, the chicken is considered holy on Ovum, and no religious Ovian will ever eat one. Ovians have a short life span and turn rotten in just a few days...unless they first immerse themselves in hot water.

DUNKINDONUTTER

This heavenly body has a large hole in its middle. Its inhabitants are very fat, love pastry and worship fast-food places, which they believe to be magic shrines. Their neighbors say they have a lot of crust.

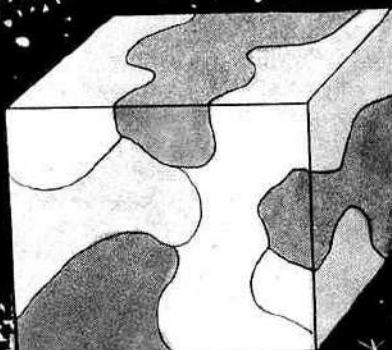

CIGAROID

An elongated planetoid with a smoking volcano at one end. The inhabitants do a great deal of coughing and have a high incidence of lung disease. Also, there is a great deal of "passing out" when a male baby is born.

SICKBUCK

A flat world, Sickbuck is peopled by tense, worried beings who try to buy things with almost worthless money. The jagged holes on Sickbuck's surface are caused not by meteors, but a planetary condition known as inflation.

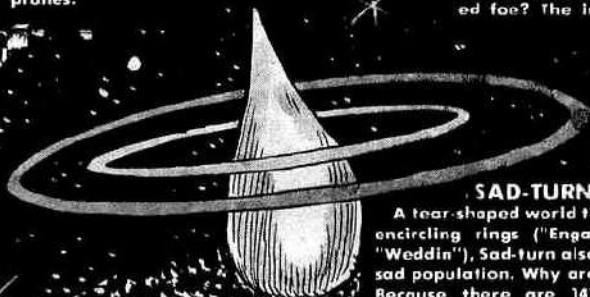

WELKUS

The creatures on this oddly shaped world, known as Lawrencewelkers, are extremely conservative, hate anything modern or unusual, and love soft, syrupy music. For some reason they all wear dentures and eat a lot of prunes.

DUMBELLO

A rare "double planet" with a connecting rod that joins the two halves. Its people, the Dapos, have low intelligence and spend much time indulging in their favorite hobby: weightlifting. Their dread foe? The insidious Hernia ites.

SAD-TURN

A tear-shaped world that has two encircling rings ("Engajmen" and "Weddin"). Sad-turn also has a very sad population. Why are they sad? Because there are 147 different sexes, so the people have a hard time trying to find suitable mates.

????????

Nobody can decipher these strange markings on the latest planet discovered: Universalis Price Codis. People everywhere are puzzled as to what exactly these ridiculous looking lines mean.

IN HOC UPTA MYNECKA

ALL THE BOOZE THAT'S FIT TO PINT

WRITER: PAUL LAIKIN

WASHINGTON, D.C. . . . President Carter has just put Hamilton Jordan in charge of the country's wild life! . . . It seems that as Jimmy Carter gets lower in the polls, Ham Jordan gets higher at the parties!

CHICAGO, ILL. . . . The high cost of gas is still in the news this month. One filling station had a sign that read: "50¢ A Gallon". Of course, that was just for water! . . . Remember that tiger we used to put in our tanks? Looks like now he's got us by the tail!

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. . . . Since we're doing better at getting the Russians out of Russia than getting them out of Cuba, the latest plan is to invite those Russian combat troops to the United States and let them defect! . . . Which brings us to what this country really needs now — someone like Ralph Nader who can recall the defectors!

MIAMI BEACH, FLA. . . . Flying saucers were reported in the skies over an oceanfront hotel here recently. On further investigation however, it turned out to be a fight between two busboys and a waiter!

DETROIT, MICH. . . . It finally happened. The big expensive car has just been replaced by the little tiny expensive car. The 1980 automobiles are so far advanced that they have 1990 price stickers. . . . Detroit's biggest problem is to design a car small enough to conserve gas and large enough not to disappear into a pothole!

EXCLUSIVE:
PRESIDENT CARTER IS SENDING
TED KENNEDY
ON A WORLDWIDE
MISSION . . . ON A DC-10!

TOKYO, JAPAN. . . . The first X-rated monster film from this country was released this month. It's all about this huge prehistoric monster who rises above the great city of Tokyo and exposes himself! . . . Israel also unveiled its first porno film. Ten minutes of sex and an hour-and-a-half of guilt!

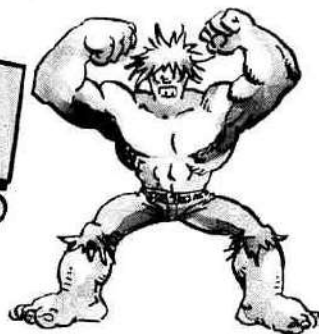

BALTIMORE, MD. . . . What do medical statistics say about the current jogging craze? It seems you burn up the same amount of energy making love as you do jogging twice around a city block. Except that after one lap around a corner, you don't feel like having a cigarette!

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. . . . According to a recent survey here, inflation has actually gripped our country. These days an after-dinner mint is what you need to pay for it! . . . Today even food for termites is expensive. Have you priced a two-by-four lately?

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. . . . How blasé can you get? A thief entered a Chinese restaurant downtown, pointed a gun at the Oriental clerk behind the counter, and said: "Give me all your money!" To which the clerk asked: "To take out?"
